VOL. XXXV MARION, CRITTENDEN COUNTY, KY., THURSDAY MORNING, NOV. 7, 1912. NO. 19.

WILSON AND MARSHALL ELECTED BY THE MOST OVERWHELMING MAJORITY IN HISTORY OF UNITED STATES POLITICS.

Forty-Three States Give Them Their Electoral Votes. Two States, Illinois And Penn., For Roosevelt, Two States Utah and Vermont, For Taft, and One Doubtful, Last Report.

THIS COUNTY LOYAL TO G. O. P., GAVE TAFT 100 PLURALITY

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES DEMOCRATIC BY POSSIBLY 160 AND SENATE APPARENTLY GOES WITH THE REST OF THE GOVERNMENT.

Returns from practically over the nation received here up to midnight showed these results:

1—Wilson and Marshall have swept the county by a tremendous landslide. There are indications they may have carried as many as forty three of the forty-eight states.

2—The democrats have carried the house of representatives by a top heavy and unwieldy ma-majority. This majority in the house may reach as high as 160 votes.

3—The democrats from all indications have carried the senate by a small majority, which gives them full control in all of the branches of government with power to carry out a complete democratic program of legislation.

Mr. McCreary, the Democratic Campaign Chairman, said:

"Gov. Wilson has been elected President of the United States, the supremacy of the Democrats in the House of Representatives has been sustained, the Republican majority in the Senate has been overthrown, and the next Senate will be Democratic."

TAFT AND ROOSEVELT CONGRATULATE WILSON

President Taft tonight sent telegram to Governor Wilson. Here is the message:

Cincinnati, Nov. 5, 1912.

"Hon. Woodrow Wilson, Princeton, N. J.

"I cordially congratulate you on your election, and extend to you my best wishes for a successful administration."

Roosevelt sent the following telegram to Governor Wilson:

"The American people by a great plurality have conferred upon you the highest honor in their gift. I congratulate you thereon."

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

BRYAN QUOTES HYMN TO SHOW FEELING.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 5.—W. J. Bryan tonight expressing pleasure at the election of Governor Wilson said:

GOV. M'CREEARY WRITES ABOUT CORPORATIONS

And Valuation of Franchises Point Out Law Requiring Attorney General to Recommend Before He Can Emp'oy Counsel to Assist State in Railroad Suits.

Governor McCreary has issued a statement in response to the letter addressed to him and others by Mr. Justus Goebel. The Governor declares that "all persons who have made proper investigation know that the corporations in Kentucky have not been paying their just proportion of the taxes," and says that if the corporations which have instituted the suits persist in their efforts "the State of Kentucky and the cause of the taxpayers should be defended in the courts by counsel in every way well equipped, and by all the attorneys that may be needed to meet and cope with the many able attorneys who instituted the suits."

The Governor's statement follows:

"The letter of Mr. Justus Goebel, addressed to me and to all administrative and legislative officers of the State, and to all citizens of the commonwealth who are interested in equal and uniform taxation, has been published generally in the newspapers and contains valuable information and important suggestions."

NEW PACKET LINE

On New Orleans and Pittsburg
Route Will Be Organized in the Near Future.

Rivermen at Uniontown and along the Ohio river are much interested in the organization of the $3,000,000 corporation which proposes to operate passenger and freight boats between Pittsburg and New Orleans. It is believed that the organization will be completed within the next ten days.

It is denied that railroad interests are to be affiliated indirectly with the new company, and at the same time it is asserted that the time is not far off when railroads will be compelled either by law or on account of business to recognize the large river transportation companies as competitors.

Plans for the new company are well advanced, as a statement issued says the first boat will leave Pittsburg for New Orleans on the afternoon of Dec. 2. This will be the packet Queen City, now operating in the Pittsburg-Cincinnati trade. The packet Steel City, sister boat to the Queen City will leave Pittsburg later, and eventually there will be a third boat placed in the trade which will insure a Pittsburg-New Orleans packet from both terminals every ten days.

It is planned within a year to place two or three 300 foot steel hull packets in the trade. The largest boats now plying the Ohio river have a length of 365 feet over all. It is believed that the venture will be a paying proposition and that much activity in river circles will result.

Heavy Seas Encountered by Boat With Big Cargo.

Duluth, Minn., Oct. 31.—Capt. Edward Martin, of the steamer, Octorara, which is in port with the largest cargo—2,500 tons of package freight—ever brought west said today that after he had left Houghton the hardest seas he has ever encountered were met.

"The chief trouble was that the screw would go out of the water and spin," said Capt. Martin. "We had to fill two of the compartments to hold the stern down and we were drawing twenty feet in the stern, but the wheel would go out. The water submerged us six feet as we came west from the portage, and all other ships remained in shelter."

NUT SHELL FOUND IN GIRL'S LUNGS.

After an Electric Light Bulb Is Thrust down Her Throat.

Columbus, O. Nov. 1.—Discovery of a hickory nut shell in the lungs of Margaret Ray, a ten-year-old girl, by means of an electric light bulb introduced into the girl's lung was a surgical operation performed yesterday. The child will recover.

Several days ago she developed what seemed to be a case of pneumonia. It was affecting the right lung and threatening serious complications.

A bronchoscope, a long hollow instrument calculated to pass down through the windpipe into the lungs, on the end of which is attached a tiny electric light bulb, was used.

When the bronchoscope was passed into the right lung, Dr. Bowen, peering into the cavity, found at first only a gathering of mucus that prevented further operation. The next step was the removal of the mucus by the aid of gauze sponges inserted through the bronchoscope by a long slender instrument equipped with forceps.

Meanwhile the patient breathed through the bronchoscope.

When the mucus substance caused by the foreign matter was removed the light from the bulb revealed the hickory nut shell. It was not a difficult matter for the forceps then to seize it and it was drawn out.

The child instantly showed signs of relief.

Death Puts An End to Marriage Contract.

Judge Lincoln sustained the demurrer of John Printz, administrator of the estate of L. O. Spies to the suit of Louisa Osterman who asked $1,000 damages on the ground that the deceased had entered into an agreement to marry her on July 10, 1910, and had committed suicide by shooting three days before the date for the wedding which was Oct. 26, following.

Judge Lincoln held that death puts an end to a marriage contract even though caused by one's own hand.

The plaintiff had alleged that she had resigned a position paying her $6 a week and arrangements had been made for the wedding and invitations sent out and that she had suffered much pain and worry.—Louisville Post.

Gov. McCreary Writes About Corporations.

ings of the Board of Valuation and Assessment, which occupied about five months and must be well-informed on the subjects to which he refers.

"The Board of Valuation and Assessment, consisting of Henry M. Bosworth's State Auditor, Thomas S. Rhea, State Treasurer, and B. F. Creelius, Secretary of State, did their work well and faithfully.

"All persons who have made proper investigation know that corporations in Kentucky have not been paying their just proportion of the taxes, and there has been unjust and burdensome taxation upon the people as compared with what has been required to be paid by the large corporations of our State.

"I am opposed to discrimination, and believe that taxation should be uniform, and the corporations and the people assessed and taxed justly and fairly.

"In my message to the last Legislature, I recommended the passage of eight important bills, and all were enacted into laws except the public utilities bill, which gave the Governor authoity to appoint an assessment and valuation commission to do what the existing Board of Valuation and Assessment has done; but as the members of that board had not under former administrations been active, I had no knowledge that the existing board would be active until I was assured by the members that they would do their duty and be just and fair, and the public utilities bill was not passed.

"The existing Board of Valuation and Assessment based their 1912 assessment on evidence of the values placed before them at great length, and I am sure they presented what they believe, after careful examination and convincing proof, are just and fair assessments; and of about four hundred corporations assessed, only eight have protested in the courts.

"The eight suits that have been brought against the State may be contested through the Federal and State courts, and are of great importance to the people and the State treasury. They involve for the State about four hundred thousand dollars annually, and for the county and city taking districts about eight hundred thousand dollars annually, or a total of about one million two hundred thousand dollars.

"When the present administration came into office, less than one year ago, the State's indebtedness was more than one million dollars. With just and fair taxation the debt of the State would soon be extinguished; and I regret that important and powerful corporations are resisting the action of the Board of Valuation and Assessment and endeavoring to perpetuate taxation which their own admissions show to be unjust and unequal.

"If the corporations which have instituted suits persist in their efforts, the State of Kentucky and the cause of the taxpayers should be defended in the courts by counsel in every way well-equipped, and by all the attorneys that may be needed to meet and cope with the many able attorneys who instituted the suits.

"I have perfect confidence in the ability and known loyalty to the State's interests of Attorney General Garnett and his three assistants, and also in the able and well equipped attorney, Mr. Rich, who, by request of the Attorney General, in writing, I have employed; but I will be pleased to appoint another attorney, or two others, if the Attorney General, in writing, should ask me to do so, as, under the law, I cannot employ counsel to represent the State without his request.

"Subsection 5 of sections 112-15 (article 2, page 228) of the Kentucky Statutes provides:

"The Attorney General and his Assistants shall attend to all litigation and business in or out of the State, required of him or them under this act, or other existing law or laws hereinafter enacted, and also any litigation or business that any State officer may have in connection with or growing out of his official duty; and no State officer, board of trustees or the head of any department or institution of the State shall have authority to employ or to be represented by any other counsel or attorney-at-law, unless an emergency arises, which, in the opinion of the Attorney General, requires the employment of other counsel, in order to properly protect the interest of the Commonwealth, in which event the Attorney General shall, in writing, setting forth reasons for such employment, request the Governor to employ such additional counsel.

"Before such counsel is employed, his fee and compensation shall be agreed upon and fixed by written contract by the Governor and said counsel, subject to the approval of the Attorney General.

"It is, therefore, apparent that I cannot appoint an attorney to assist the Attorney General in these suits until the Attorney General, in writing, requests me to do so, and also agrees with me on the compensation the counsel employed is to receive."

A Great Family Reunion.

Thursday, Oct. 31st, 1912, J. E. Stephenson, better known as "Duck Stephenson," entertained a large company of relatives in honor of his mother, who lives with him and had recently passed her 85th year. The early morning was threatening and looked as if it would be a rainy day, but notwithstanding the rain and the black clouds the Stephenson families and their kindred got a move on themselves and headed for the place appointed. When ye scribe got in sight of Ducks, I mean Duck Stephenson's, it looked like the judgement day had dawned and I was late to appear. But when we arrived we found the large and small; the old and the young, but all in a good humor. The hostler ready to take charge of horse on arrival. A few minutes after 11 o'clock, dinner was announced ready, and a program had been arranged, the mother and her own children be seated first and the table then be filled up with the older ones, who were members of the family. One of the peculiar features of the occasion was, that all of her children were eating with her and the youngest over 40 years old. As I sat and looked over the table and watched the jolly family dive into the wonderful supply that was before them, and heard Rev. J. J. Franks ask the question how the sweet potatoes had kept, he had no more than thus said, till I saw the potatoes pass by me on their way to the parson. Now everything that you might think of that was good to eat was on that table. The sight was so great that I sat in amazement, but eat all the time. If you will give me your attention I will in as brief way as I can tell you who were there as follows:

J. C. Stephenson, J. B. Stephenson, Geo. A. Stephenson, E. R. Stephenson, I. R. Stephenson, M. E. Brasher, J. E. Stephenson, Sarah A. Stephenson, Bell Stephenson, Susie Stephenson, Terry Stephenson, Mollie Stephenson, Annie Stephenson, grandson, Andrew Brasher; Charles Ramage, Isaac Ramage, Nannie Ramage, Ida Jacobs, Pearl Hamilton, Birdie Stephenson, W. B. Stephenson, Murray Stephenson, grandchildren, May Beavers, Ray Stephenson, Maude Tyree, Tom Stephenson, Irene Rogers, Corbett Stephenson, Effie Hodge, Carrie Stephenson, Lillie Stephenson, Vissie Stephenson, Geo. Stephenson, Ettie Brasher, Ernest Brasher, Liddia Brasher, Gracie Brasher, Claude Brasher, Sylvan Brasher, Lillie Stephenson, Imogene Stephenson, great grand child, Jackson Hodge, Osburn Hodge, grand child, Walter E. Dalton, Birdie Dalton, grand child, Edgar O'Neal, Della O'Neal, Wm. H. O'Neal, great grand child, Ora Brasher, Odessie Beavers, Arman Brasher, Lorene Brasher, Carl Brasher, Robert Hamilton, Ralph Hamilton, Carl Hamilton, Marie Ramage, Arthur Taber, Presley Taber, Joel Tyree, Sarah E. Tyree, Frank Rogers, Grace Rogers, Justin Rogers, Collie Beavers, Walter Ramage, J. L. Rogers, Walter Flannery, Jim Taber, Sinds Brinkley, Essie Brinkley, L. C. Stokes, Lula Stephenson, G. J. Hamilton, Rev. J. J. Franks and R. M. Franks.

There were four generations present. One baby was not present which would have constituted the fifth generation of the Stephenson family.

For fear this writing becomes monotonous I will say to the Editor that we had a good time and wish he had been there, and the next reunion I go to, I will come by and get him.

One of the features of interest was the sermon of J. J. Franks which was to my way of thinking, very appropriate. He closed with a strong injunction to prepare for the final meeting. The service closed with a general hand shake.—R. M. F.

IN OLD KENTUCKY.

In October every year a good many citizen of this country believe that their health demands a trip to Kentucky. Probably the fact that the "trots" are held at Lexington at this time is not a pure coincidence. The horse is still supreme in the bluegrass region, where the two purely American breeds are found in greatest numbers and of highest excellence—the trotter and the saddle horse. The business of raising these horses is prospering and there seems to be no abatement in the interest in them. The thoroughbred or the running horse industry is on the decline for two reasons. Racing of Thoroughbreds degenerated into a gambling enterprise to a very large extent, resulting in legislation in many states which has reduced the demand for the product of the breeder; and the Thoroughbred is not so useful off the track as is the trotter. But the breed that produces great horses in the past is still useful, particularly for the production of saddle and cavalry horses, and it should be perpetuated regardless of the race course. Lexington, the center of the bluegrass region and of the horse business has become the largest loose-leaf tobacco market in the world. Enormous warehouses are being erected to handle the constantly increasing crop. Old-timers deplore the ripping up of so many beautiful bluegrass pastures to grow tobacco, but as long as it pays so much better than horses or cattle the area will continue to expand. Agriculture follows the line of greatest reward just as any other industry does, though its movements may be less rapid.

The Agricultural College of the Kentucky State University is making great progress under President Barker, who is heartily in sympathy with its development. As in other states the number of young men who want an education in agriculture is increasing faster than the resources of the institution. The position of Dean of the College of Agriculture and Director of the Experiment Station, left vacant by the death of Dr. Scoville, has not yet been filled. Prof. Hooper, now head of the department of animal husbandry, seems to be the natural successor to this position. He is a graduate of Texas and Iowa agricultural colleges and his work is winning a wide appreciation in the state. Farmers from various sections of the South reported a shortage in the cotton crop, due to spring floods and late planting, which permitted the boll weevil to get in its work. Millers state that they are having trouble to get soft winter wheat, due to the Ohio crop failure, and they are drawing on Pennsylvania, Maryland and Virginia for their supplies. More corn is being raised in the South as a result of the corn propaganda there and the fact that so much land could not be planted in cotton, but as long as cotton sells high it will remain the leading crop in its field. From all sides are heard reports of progress in Southern agriculture—more diversification of crops, larger yields, and a general awakening to the necessity of studying agriculture.—Editorial in The National Stockman and Farmer, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Heart on Wrong Side Saves Life.

New York, Nov. 6.—Because his heart is on the right side, little David Krunish left Fordham Hospital today well on the road to recovery. If his heart had been normal, the physicians say, he probably would have been carried out in a coffin several days ago.

David, who is 11 years old, fell on a picket fence and one of the spikes penetrated his breast three inches directly over the place where his heart should be.

Good Care of the Hair - - Makes all Women Fair

Hair—natural, snappy, well kept hair is woman's greatest beauty. The hair first attracts attention. Nice, clean, fluffy hair, growing on the head it adorns, makes for personal charm more than a clear complexion, regular features or a handsome gown. Beautiful hair, which commands admiration everywhere, is almost always associated with the use of hair.

Well Known Scalp Prophylactic

Newbro's Herpicide

The worst enemy of good hair is dandruff caused by an invisible microbe growth or germ. Herpicide used intelligently destroys this germ removes the dandruff and thus prevents further loss of hair. It imparts life, luster and luxuriance which constitute hair beauty. There is a subtle and delightful odor about Herpicide that never offends but appeals to everyone. Herpicide contains no grease and does not stain or dye. The itching which indicates dandruff, usually stops almost at once. There is no need for anyone to be deceived by other preparations that have adopted our advertising claims. You can avoid possible disappointment by insisting upon having genuine Herpicide long known as the Original Dandruff Germ Destroyer.

President Taft has the Marion Globe and its influence to thank for the two states he carried.

The water works bond issue was defeated in the local election by only a dozen votes, which was a great disappointment to its advocates. Many were surprised at the large vote in favor of it as two thirds majority is required by law in such cases and it lacked only 12 votes on getting two-thirds.

I just noticed a paragraph in one of the Pittsburg papers, "A peace conference has opened in Geneva. Stand by for war." The joke of it is that it looks like this joke is no joke. In the same paper it says, "One thousand Greeks from Pittsburg, seven hundred from Wheeling, and like number from other places, have enlisted to fight in the war that has been arranged by Greece, Montenegro, Serbia, and other Balkan countries, against Turkey."

It may be that the diplomats will be able to put one more weight on Europe's safety valve, the treaty of Berlin, but it looks doubtful. It is realized that while the governments in the coalition might be willing to try to get along awhile longer with things as they are, they are unable to control the militarism of their subjects. In other words the people of the Balkan states want war and when people want war badly enough they generally get it.

It looks as if Mr. Roosevelt might have hit on a great truth when he says the battle of Armageddon is at hand, in which everybody who wants to fight will get all the fighting he wants. It may be that the prophecy of Joel 3:10 is ready for fulfillment, "Beat your plowshares into swords and your pruning hooks into spears. Let the weak say, I am strong."

It is undeniably true that Europe has been an armed encampment of four and a half million men for a generation. Those who would otherwise be following the plow and pruning the trees, are forging and handling instead the weapons of war. The financially weak nations, like Italy, are draining their resources beyond the power of long endurance. The situation is reaching a point where the militarism of the people is likely to get the best of the diplomats and financiers and when that comes the world will certainly have the great time of trouble predicted in Dan. 12:1. Thank God! All the prophets show that just beyond the time of trouble lies the Golden Age for which we all are longing. The desire of all.

CAPITOL ARBORETUM TREE PLANTING EXERCISES AT FRANKFORT.

At a meeting of the board of Sinking Fund Commissioners on October 30th in the executive office the following program was adopted for the exercises which will take place on Arbor Day, Nov. 13th in connection with the planting of the trees in the rear of the Capitol building by the County.

The exercises will begin at 11 a. m. sharp and will be held on the portico in the rear of the Capitol building.

The program will be as follows: Invocation, Rev. Jesse Ziegler. Welcome to the City, Mayor Polsgrove.

Welcome to the Capitol, Governor McCreary.

Antiquity of Memorial Tree Planting and Its Beautiful Sentiment, Judge James Garnett.

Arbor Day and Forestry, Forester J. E. Barton.

Planting of Trees by Public Schools, President Barker of State University.

Address, Lieutenant Governor McDermott.

Forest Planting in the Future, Mr. H. F. Hilleneyer.

Following these exercises each county delegation will adjourn to toss a shovel full of earth on the tree it has sent, with such other exercises as they may elect.

In the conspicuous little plot of ground formed by the junction of the existing and proposed automobile road Governor McCreary will plant one Tree, a Burr Oak, for the State-at-Large, so that standing alone in solitary splendor it will be a memorial of the kindly feeling which has so long existed between him and the People, he has served so well who hold him in such high regard.

A band will be provided to furnish music during the exercises.

Judge Blue will ship Crittenden county's tree to Frankfort this week. He will obtain it from John Wilson's land. Mr. Wilson having donated the tree, a stately sycamore, which will represent Crittenden Co., in the arboretum.

Senator-elect James Claims Forty States.

Senator-elect Ollie M. James was given a royal reception by his home people Saturday afternoon. It needed only to be noised around that Ollie James would address the people at that date to bring the largest gathering of Crittenden county people that has been here during the campaign. At 2 o'clock the large hall of the opera house was filled, every inch of standing room was occupied and hundreds were turned away. Mr. James was at his best and made a brilliant address, which was received with much applause by his audience.

During the course of his remarks, the Senator-elect made the prediction that Woodrow Wilson would carry forty states and that Roosevelt would be second in the race. Many Republicans and Bull Moosers were in the audience.

This ended Mr. James' speech making for the campaign. He arrived here Saturday morning from New York and remained at home until after the election.

"NIGHT RIDER" TACTICS ALLEGED IN UNION COUNTY

Proprietor of Factory Reported as "Advised" Not To Buy Unpooled Tobacco.

Morganfield, Ky. Nov. 2.—J. Whittle Clarke, an independent tobacco buyer and owner of the largest and best equipped factory in the county, is reported to have been approached by a committee composed of Union county tobacco growers and "advised" not to buy any unpooled 1912 tobacco. It is said he was "advised" in writing that it would be "to his interest" not to attempt to make any purchases. In view of the fact that there is a very large amount of tobacco in Union county that is to remain unpooled, this action has caused considerable surprise. If Mr. Clarke's factory is again shut down this will be his third year's loss. Several hundred negroes who have employment there during the season are fearful of another hard winter.

Barnett-Thomas.

Cards have been received in this city announcing the marriage of Miss Kate Fleming Barnett, of Marion, and Mr. I. Darrow Thomas. The marriage took place in Louisville on October 21. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas are at home in Marion.

The bride is an attractive girl, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Barnett, and is well known in this city where she spent last winter.—Paducah Sun.

SCHOOL ELECTION

The Marion city schools conducted a regular election on election day. Ballots were the same as used in the national election except they were printed on colored paper and marked "Educational." All students from the fourth grade through the high school voted. The election was conducted exactly as regular elections, with student officers, booths, etc. It was done to give students a practical lesson in Civil Government.

Wilson Electors 129
Taft Electors 82.
Roosevelt Electors 24

Out of the 235 votes cast with National ballots, there was not a single spoiled or mutilated ballot.

In the city water works election there were 162 ballots for it and 12 against. There were only 5 spoiled ballots in the water works election.

This is a record that compares favorably with the voting intelligence of the average legal voters of any precinct. It is hoped that much good has been accomplished in training students in the duties of citizenship.

One Girl in a Thousand.

One Girl in a Thousand was presented by a home talent company, at the Opera House, Monday night, to a fair audience. The young folks did their parts well and deserved a crowded house. Miss Lena Holtsclaw, the directress, deserves great credit for her work in training them. The troupe will play at several nearby cities in the near future having already been invited to put the play on at some of our neighboring towns.

"My confidence in Governor Wilson has grown with acquaintance and I feel sure that he will live up to expectations. I believe he listens to his conscience."

PATRONAGE PASSES TO THE DEMOCRATS NOW.

Washington, D. C.—The election of Woodrow Wilson means a big patronage upheaval in Kentucky. Senator Bradley will cease to be the "Patronage God" on March 4 next and Ollie M. James will become the "big it" with a capital "I" in patronage matters.

All of the big Kentucky federal officers will be appointed after March 4 on Senator James' recommendation and Senator Bradley will have to take a back seat in rear row. Kentucky democratic representatives in congress will furnish recommendations for presidential postoffices in his district. The scramble for appointments is expected to begin at once.

Providence Enterprise Items.

The Bachelor's Paradise.

Free as the birds and a lucky old boy!

Handsome and rich and a fountain of joy.

Sugar and lots of spice!

Who could resist if the Gods should decree

Something as jolly for you and for me—

A bachelor's Paradise!

Nothing to fret or worry about:

Cash coming in and not much going out;
Always enough and to spare!
No one at home to know how it is spent.
No little rowdy to beg for a cent
And nobody bothers to care.
Nothing to do at the close of the day,
Nobody asks him to hurry away
Home to the same old shack;
No little sleepy heads watching the gate,
Nobody wonders what keeps him so late
Or cares if he never comes back!
Matrons and maids are awaiting his smile
Sparkle and music and dance to beguile;
Everything natty and trim!
No little tousle heads cuddle up tight
No little woman to whisper "good night"—
Nothing like that for him.
Nothing to trouble him all the night long
Monarch of all. And his life like a song.
Easy and comfy and nice!
No little bugbear and no morning kiss,
No little nuisance and no little bliss
Not in HIS paradise.

"THE GREAT RIVER."

Mississippi is the Most Remarkable River in the World.

The river lying wholly within the temperate zone is in this respect more fortunately situated than in the more fertile valley of Amazon, since the climate here, varied and sometimes inhospitable, as it is, offers conditions of human development there denied.

The main stream is 2,500 miles in length, that is about ten times that of the Seine. As Mark Twain has said, "it is the crookedest river" in the world traveling 1,300 miles to cover the same ground that a crow would fly over in 675. For several hundred miles it is a mile in width. Back in 1882 it was seventy miles wide when the flood was highest.

The volume of water discharged by it into the sea is second only to the Amazon and is greater than all European rivers combined (omitting the Volga). The amount is estimated at 130 cubic miles annually; that is, it would fill annually a tank 130 miles long 130 miles high and 130 miles long. With its tributaries it provides somewhat more than 19,000 miles of navigable water, more than any other system on the globe except the Amazon—and more than enough to reach from Lake Superior to Paris by way of Kamchatka and Alaska, about three-fourths of the distance around the globe. The sediment deposited is 190,000,000 enough to require daily for its removal 500 trains of fifty cars each carrying fifty tons, and to make each year two square miles of new earth over 100 feet deep.

The area which it drains is roughly a million and a quarter square miles, or two-fifths of the United States. That is, Germany, Austria-Hungary, France and Italy could be set down within this area and there would still be some room to spare.

It has the strength for the most part to put to nouse what-

G. W. L. Nesbitt, Marion, Ky., says: "Kidney disease had made me an invalid. I was often in bed for two weeks at a time, and no tongue could describe my suffering. I often wished that death would come and end my misery. The kidney secretions became highly colored and my limbs were badly swollen. My sight also failed as doctors had little hope for my recovery. I could hardly hold my head above my head, in fact, my right arm was paralyzed. I had lost all hope when a relative advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills. I finally consented to give this remedy a trial, and a box was procured at Haynes & Taylor's Drug Store. I improved from the first and after I had taken one box I was so greatly relieved that I felt confident I had at last found something that would cure me. One by one the symptoms of my trouble disappeared and in three months I was a well man, attending to my business in the usual way. That Doan's Kidney Pills are the greatest remedy in the world for kidney disease, is a fact of which I am firmly convinced."

The above statement was given February 3, 1908 and on February 3, 1912 Mr. Nesbitt said: "I still have Doan's Kidney Pills as a good kidney remedy. I have not used any in over a year. You are at liberty to publish my former statement."

The Appointment Of Adequate Counsel

Justus Goebel Makes Strong Appeal for Protection To People's Interests

Open Letter He Asks That Lawyers Known To Be Loyal To The Cause Of The People And Free From Cor- ruption Taint Be Employed In The Suits Against Tax- ing Corporations

OPEN LETTER.
Frankfort and Covington, Ky.,
October 31st, 1912.

Excellency, Governor James B. Berry, to all Administrative and Legislative officers of the State and Citizens of the Commonwealth interested in equal and unimpaired taxation:

My friends to be brave and loyal to the great commonwealth.

The words of my assassinated brother, William Goebel, have a sacredness to me and when in September, 1909, I again commenced my active interest in our State's affairs, it was not to gain political favor, but to see that there was no office I would not do with hope and confidence that my work would, during the administration of the present state, open up an opportunity for me to take up William Goebel's work, and in that event every effort of our government would be by voice and action most vigorous and loyal support.

Relief Must Come.

Necessity for action in the interest of the people has grown as years have passed until it has developed into what is a crying shame and from relief must come.

Long, altogether too long, has been unjust discrimination against the people, unjust and burdensome taxation upon the people, and with what has been required to be paid by the big corporations of the State. Corporation lawyers have long said the death of William Goebel was a benefit to the corporation. If this was true, the question is much longer shall the people be in bondage because of his death.

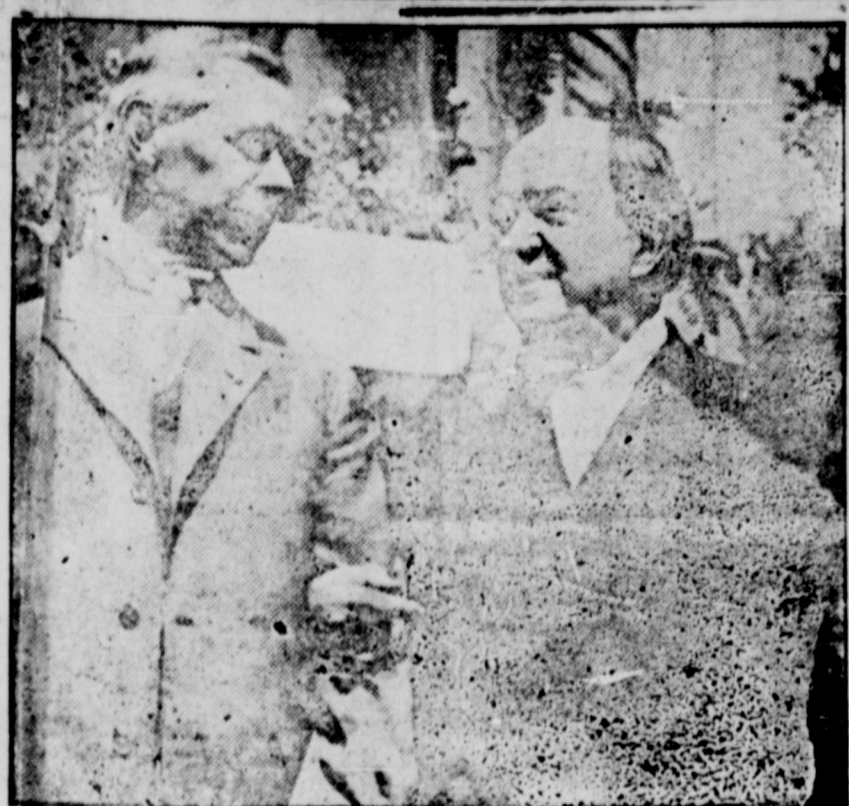

Gross Undervaluation.

One doubts, had William Goebel been permitted to live, that which the last months by the Board of Valuation and Assessment would have been more than a decade ago, today, instead of the large corporations being in the courts and state treasuries, endeavoring to evade the just and unequal taxation, the action of this board, the first to act for the interest of the people, they have been paying into the treasury and city treasuries the proportion of taxes.

Board Asks For People.

To date the people have won, and the Board of Valuation and Assessment, consisting of only M. Rosworth, chairman; T. S. Rhea and C. F. Crecelius, has had its work for 1912, and, thankful, for once it has acted in the interest of the people.

Until this year the Board of Valuation and Assessment has been controlled in the interest of the corporations by some hook or crook or friendship, political favor or whereas the Board found their 1912 assessment should be $18,798,630. The N. O. & T. P. R. R. in 1901 paid taxes on a franchise valuation of $13,110,197, and in 1911 on a valuation of only $3,559,320, whereas the Board found their 1912 assessment should be $19,674,300. The L. & N. in 1901 paid taxes on a franchise valuation of only $1,989,870, and in 1911 on a valuation of only $4,510,320, whereas the Board found their 1912 assessment should be $14,746,857. The L. & N. in 1901 paid taxes on a franchise valuation of only $6,504,570, and in 1911 on a valuation of only $11,599, whereas the Board found their 1912 assessment should be $45,428.

The Covington companies in the past had little, proportionately, as did it of the above mentioned companies and without exception all companies and the two others subinvented the same assessments for 2 that they had in 1911. The Board of Valuation and Assessment has their 1912 assessments on convine proof of values placed before them and the assessments are uniform and fair, and of the more than hundred corporations as assessed only seven have protested in the suits, and these are among those that have always proportionately paid the tax.

The last twelve years the State, county and cities have been robbed, and word robbery is the only word that the case of more than ten million dollars in taxes.

In a year from 1902 to 1911, included a period of ten years, there has been an average increase in the franchise assessments of the four largest roads of the State of only 1 1/2 per cent yearly, and this almost unbelievable record of astonishingly small increases was made in the ten best years for earnings that the railroads this country ever saw.

The figure here presented of the previous inadequate franchise assessments astounding, but when one examines the situation regarding the tangible assessments made by Railroad Commissions of the properties of six of the corporations now suing the State, the word "astounding" is inadequate almost to be supplanted by the word "foundational" to state more correct what the tangible assessment here actually presents.

We Are Delayed a Decade.

Take the case of the C. & O. R. R. and the facts show that the tangible property of this company in 1892, twenty years ago, was assessed at $8,019,57. In 1911 notwithstanding the extensions made in mileage of road, double tracking of a vast system, acquiring such new real estate and probably more than doubling their equipment engines and cars this company's tangible property was assessed at only $6,270,270, or 21 1/2 per cent less in 1892, twenty years ago.

In 1892 the market price of C. & O. stock was under 11 cents, and today the stock this company is selling at $15.00 and the capital stock has been increased to one hundred million dollars. Further comment to show that a state has been robbed is unnecessary. The tangible property of the C. & O. R. R. was assessed in 1911 for less than it was assessed in 1892 but little more than in 1890, notwithstanding the great improvements made by the company. The other railroads have been similarly inadequate assessed on their tangible property many years.

In May, 1911 a prominent official of one of the companies suing, stated that the special interests had in years past controlled the state's taxing boards, and the record apparently prove he told the truth that instance. He also stated that he would control the present Board of Valuation and Assessment, but this he has proven an ignominious failure.

Therefore, with such an interest and with the knowledge that I have gained through my labors, I feel that I am qualified, amply qualified, to make an appeal, in the name of the 400,000 taxpayers of the state who furnish seven-eighths of the revenue for the state's government, and who for many years have withstood the burden of unequal taxation, to the administrative and legislative officers of the state to support the governor with unlimited or to be rendered, bribery or intimidation, but never before has the state, county or city been given what it was rightfully entitled to.

The eight suits that have been brought against the state must be fought through all federal and state courts, and are of vital importance to our people. They involve for the state $382,389, and for the county and city taxing districts $823,396, or a total, annually, of $1,205,785.

The railroad companies, realizing the magnitude of this fight and anxious to win out, not alone from a financial standpoint, but to prevent the great public denouncement that is bound to come in the wake of a victory for the state, are calling up the wonderful array of legal talent that is at their command through the power and influence that comes of the tremendous amount of money represented in their combined capitalization of approximately one billion dollars.

Master Legal Minds.

Among the master legal minds that are already engaged in preparing the defense of the suing corporations are Trabue, Dolan & Cox, of Louisville, for the Illinois Central Railroad Company; Galvin & Galvin, of Cincinnati, for the Cincinnati, New Orleans & Texas Pacific Railroad Company; John T. Shelby & Son, of Lexington, for the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad Company; Col. Henry L. Stone, Helm Bruce, C. H. Moorman, R. A. Colston, of Louisville, and Browder & Browder, of Russellville, for the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company; Beckham & McQuown, of Frankfort, and Ernst, Cassatt & Cottle, of Cincinnati, for the South Covington & Cincinnati Street Railway Company and the Union Light, Heat and Power Company; Maxwell, Ramsey & Graydon, of Cincinnati, for the Adams Express Company and for the Southern Express Company.

In addition to this galaxy of legal talent, the suing corporations have a vast army of busy workers who never appear in the limelight or in the courtroom, and they may be described as research lawyers, accountants and statisticians, who are a mighty supportive element to the men who will present the cases and make the pleas and arguments.

Without detracting one iota from the splendid ability and known loyalty to the state's interests possessed by the attorney general, James Garnett, and his three assistants, the commonwealth's legal force, as compared with that of the corporations, must seem inadequate, indeed; and when it is taken into consideration that the attorney general's office has a multiplicity of cases and matters of state to fully employ their attention, and that the present situation comes in the nature of an emergency unforeseen and unprecedented in the state's history, the urgent necessity for the employment of other able lawyers as a supportive force to the attorney general becomes quite apparent.

Ability, known loyalty to the cause, and assured freedom from corporation taint should be the gauge to govern in the selection of attorneys to assist in the defense of the state's interests.

Justus Goebel's Interest.

My interest in the work just completed by the board was, and is, different from, and greater than, that of any man in Kentucky or elsewhere—even though he may have been connected with the work. Love of my state and love for and memory of my assassinated brother, whose brain work constructed and whose blood stained the statutes which made it possible to do what the Board of Valuation and Assessment has just completed, have compelled me the service I have rendered in the matter, and without official duty resting on me, I have given untiringly and almost constantly more than five months of time, energy and study to these assessments in the interest of the state and its people, to the exclusion of every other interest—business and personal.

Therefore, with such an interest and with the knowledge that I have gained through my labors, I feel that I am qualified, amply qualified, to make an appeal, in the name of the 400,000 taxpayers of the state who furnish seven-eighths of the revenue for the state's government, and who for many years have withstood the burden of unequal taxation, to the administrative and legislative officers of the state to support the governor with unlimited means for the necessary defense of the people's interest and cases.

There are men who have said it places that in the employment of Attorney John L. Rich the state had gone far enough, but to such men I would say, "Is your only interest the welfare of the people, and have you proven that there is no other interest that is greater with you than the people's interest?"

Every Citizen Interested.

We have been, and are, dealing in this with a matter which is vital to and affects the comforts of every home, no matter how humble, and the pocketbook of every taxpayer in the commonwealth, be he laborer, mechanic, farmer, merchant or of any other rank or station. All have their interest in what we have been fighting for—more nearly equal taxation and relief from corporation oppression.

The question is, shall the cause of our taxpayers be defended at the bar of justice by an array of counsel of the correct standard and in keeping with the greatness and importance of these cases, which involve, not only $1,205,785 this year, but millions upon millions in years to come, and if the assessments are upheld, mean to this generation and generations yet unborn in Kentucky, lesser tax to pay, and to the state adequate revenue for every purpose of government, economically conducted.

"Most respectfully yours,

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors recommended it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, permitted it to become a general disease. It is now taken internally in a new form, and is a powerful, it acts directly on the blood and cures numerous syphilis of the system. They are one hundred dollars for any case it cures. THE ORME ANNUAL.

Huston Orme's Annual 'Possum Turkey Dinner. A Delightful Occasion—Senator James Guest of Honor. Others Present.

As the years pass us by, our regrets are not that we are growing old but that our Possum dinner limits are decreasing. One who has ever had the good fortune to receive Huston Orme's invitation to stretch his legs, under the mahogany will agree with the Pres that nature might have improved upon possum and turkey as food products but doubtless nature never did. The dinner of Monday evening could very truthfully be called a symphony in gastronomy, a poem in food. No lines were drawn, the possum and the turkey represented the South and the North and every man present gave equal attention to both sections.

Finally Tom Yandell owing to the ever increasing weight of possum and turkey and other things began to slip down in his chair and as he gently murmured "a little more possum gravy" and his knife and fork fell from the table, the real evening with its pleasant interchange of sentiment was inaugurated by Mr. Clem S. Nunn, the toastmaster of the occasion. Mr. Nunn was at his best: his witty remarks and pleasant greetings placed all at ease. Senator Maxwell of Kentucky-Oklahoma-Texas and other places got behind the old philosopher of Franklin Square and claimed exemption from speaking on the ground that he was neither a suffragette or a married man. Looking backward with Bellamy, the ordinary observer would imagine that Press Maxwell had lived a mighty lonely, moral life; yet who really knows? He may have done lots of things outside of Marion. We hope he did. This would cause him to be more like the rest of us. Judge Blue objected to being called of more than mature age, when the toastmaster, who by the way is his partner, referred to him as that dignified old gentleman on the other side of the table. He told the toastmaster that while truthfulness was a pearl of great price he did not believe his partner was wearing pearl necklaces. Our two hardware merchants were present but the hatchet had been buried, and while one of them will probably cause our city letters to take precedence over circulars and weekly papers so far as deliveries are concerned, the other will continue in his hardware way. It would be impossible to really place before our readers a correct synopsis of the many pleasant sayings. In the first place the United States mail people might object to some of the sayings as being "not mailable" and then there are family reasons, none of the gentlemen's wives were present, and it was a mighty good thing for the men they were not. There would have been a lot of explanations asked immediately after the possum club had adjourned. The National Cash Register occupied a prominent position in the vicinity of Salem street. Col. Roberts was allowed to have his say by reading what some good looking stenographer had prepared for him, but he neglected to familiarize himself with the stenographer's funny way of spelling and once or twice said something in an aside that sounded like "she's a dandy" and again words beginning with the fourth letter of the alphabet and ending the same way, he finally finished reading the typewriter's observations which were as follows:

Bro. Possums:—To our host of this and many previous evenings, we owe much. He has the rare faculty of making the life we live worth the living. He is good to us in sickness and in health. His drugs and his medicines are pure but nasty; his tender care and devotion, politically and medicinally the principle of Old Hickory and all that this name implies is of a character to compel our admiration. Our thanks to Huston Orme.

Of northern origin, I have never acquired that rare blessing that seems almost a divine gift to every Kentuckian. I mean oratory. The only public speaking we are taught in that section of this wonderful country, is the recitation of the Apostles' Creed, the Lord's Prayer and the Ten Commandments and these we say until we really and truly believe that there is comprised in this belief and in these laws, pretty nearly all that make life one of love and charity and justice.

In distinction to this lack of being able to express ourselves with ease and dignity, I have listened with ever growing admiration and delight to your Kentucky youths of tender years who already have the congressional ritual down very pat—every one present I am sure will bear witness—even the high guest at this dinner, that the following sounds very much like a congressional report of proceedings as printed in our daily papers, but which is carefully pruned before its appearance in the Congressional Record. The speaker was little Jimmie Wallace, who was evidently wrought up over some happening, for as I passed along, these words floated from his lips, "Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Fords Ferry is a damned liar."

In expressing my thanks and voicing my delight at being with and one of you this evening, I want to go a step farther and while I may not have the prophetic gift of the prophets of old, I desire to offer a toast, and I am quite sure you will honor yourselves by rising as we drink—

To the great, generous bosom of this grand old Commonwealth of Kentucky, clad in the immaculate whiteness of her cotton fields, upon her loyal heart, a gem of the purest ray, a koinoor, whose brilliant beams are attracting the admiration and esteem of the best minds of all sections of this great country, a pure white diamond, and Gentlemen, the history of the future will prefix the title "President" to this gem, and its full name will be "President Ollie James." God bless him.

Hosick—Porter.

J. H. Porter, the merchant and Miss Elsie Hosick of Salem section were married at Elisabethtown, Ill., by the county judge of Hardin county, Sunday, Oct. 6, 1912, and returned at once to the groom's home here. Miss Hosick is a daughter of the widow Eaton of the Salem vicinity and is an attractive girl. Mr. Porter has been merchandizing here for several years, was born in this county and has lived here all his life. He is as popular and clever a gentleman as you will meet.

The good roads meeting at Levas is postponed on account of the protracted meeting which is in progress at that place, until Friday, Nov. 15th, 2 p. m. Machen A. Wilson Road Engineer.

In Kentucky.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 5.—Wilson and Marshall carried Kentucky by 100,000 majority, according to the Courier Journal's estimate based on returns still incomplete at 3 o'clock this morning. Roosevelt and Taft ran close together for second place, each polling in the neighborhood of 80,000.

The eight democratic and two incumbent congressmen were re-elected as well as Alben W. Barkley, democrat in the first district Louisville went Democratic by a majority of approximately, 1200.

NEW SALEM

Herman Ladd and child, and a son and daughter of John Loftes are on the sick list.

Corn gathering is in full blast. The crop is 90 per cent of a full crop this year.

Coal hauling, the election and swapping lies, has been the principle occupation of the boys both old and young, for the past month.

The moving season is at hand; Mayor Jim Hall has moved from Livingston Co., to the farm of W. C. Tyner; J. A. Mahan has moved to the farm owned by his father; Luther Pace has moved to the farm vacated by J. A. Mahan and Horrace James has moved to the farm of Mont Davenport.

Our people in this section are attending the meeting at Union. Herman Grimes has moved on the farm of Jacob Kirk for 1913.

Miss Beulah Austin, of Piney Creek, is the guest of her sister, Mary Pace, near here.

Rev. Boucher came down to his regular appointment first Saturday and Sunday, but called in his regular Sunday services on account of the meeting at Union.

While in Cross Roads, Saturday, we called on our old friends Judge Stevens and Col. Rappolee. We found our old friends smoking their corn cob pipes side by side, just simply waiting for the summons to come, to rest on the sunny side of the great divide. They gave us a pressing invitation to dine with them but the dining rooms had too many doors

We called by special invitation Saturday on our old friend Rasco Fort, the accommodating manager of the Home Telephone at Salem, to see his kennel of coon and o'possum dogs. He has five as fine ones as we ever saw and we used to be something of a hunter in days gone by. Mr. Fort showed us a coon caught Friday night that tipped the beam at 52 lbs., and it looked like a cub bear.

Mrs. Susan LaRue is the guest of her son, James, near here.

Bob Millikan and family, of Emmaus section, were the guests of J. A. Mahan Saturday and Sunday.

School is progressing nicely at New Salem, and everyone is praising the teacher.

This is our first letter in three weeks. Some of the boys are saying that the Cross Roads correspondent had snowed us under. No, we are not snowed under—have just been a little poorly, and will say to old Windy that we are still alive and when the spirit moves us we will not forget him—just simply waiting until the election is over.

Esq. Lucian LaRue, wife and daughters, of Sheridan, were guests of his brother, James, Sunday.

THE ORME ANNUAL.

Huston Orme's Annual 'Possum Turkey Dinner. A Delightful Occasion—Senator James Guest of Honor. Others Present.

As the years pass us by, our regrets are not that we are growing old but that our Possum dinner limits are decreasing. One who has ever had the good fortune to receive Huston Orme's invitation to stretch his legs, under the mahogany will agree with the Prets that nature might have improved upon possum and turkey as food products but doubtless nature never did. The dinner of Monday evening could very truthfully be called a symphony in gastronomy, a poem in food. No lines were drawn, the possum and the turkey represented the South and the North and every man present gave equal attention to both sections.

Finally Tom Yandell owing to the ever increasing weight of possum and turkey and other things began to slip down in his chair and as he gently murmured "a little more possum gravy" and his knife and fork fell from the table, the real evening with its pleasant interchange of sentiment was inaugurated by Mr. Clem S. Nunn, the toastmaster of the occasion. Mr. Nunn was at his best: his witty remarks and pleasant greetings placed all at ease. Senator Maxwell of Kentucky-Oklahoma-Texas and other places got behind the old philosopher of Franklin Square and claimed exemption from speaking on the ground that he was neither a suffragette or a married man. Looking backward with Bellamy, the ordinary observer would imagine that Press Maxwell had lived a mighty lonely, moral life; yet who really knows? He may have done lots of things outside of Marion. We hope he did. This would cause him to be more like the rest of us. Judge Blue objected to being called of more than mature age, when the toastmaster, who by the way is his partner, referred to him as that dignified old gentleman on the other side of the table. He told the toastmaster that while truthfulness was a pearl of great price he did not believe his partner was wearing pearl necklaces. Our two hardware merchants were present but the hatchet had been buried, and while one of them will probably cause our city letters to take precedence over circulars and weekly papers so far as deliveries are concerned, the other will continue in his hardware way. It would be impossible to really place before our readers a correct synopsis of the many pleasant sayings. In the first place the United States mail people might object to some of the sayings as being "not mailable" and then there are family reasons, none of the gentlemen's wives were present, and it was a mighty good thing for the men they were not. There would have been a lot of explanations asked immediately after the possum club had adjourned. The National Cash Register occupied a prominent position in the vicinity of Salem street. Col. Roberts was allowed to have his say by reading what some good looking stenographer had prepared for him, but he neglected to familiarize himself with the stenographer's funny way of spelling and once or twice said something in an aside that sounded like "she's a dandy" and again words beginning with the fourth letter of the alphabet and ending the same way. He finally finished reading the typewriter's observations which were as follows:

Bro. Possums:—To our host of this and many previous evenings, we owe much. He has the rare faculty of making the life we live worth the living. He is good to us in sickness and in health. His drugs and his medicines are pure but nasty; his tender care and devotion, politically and medicinally the principle of Old Hickory and all that this name implies is of a character to compel our admiration. Our thanks to Huston Orme.

Of northern origin, I have never acquired that rare blessing that seems almost a divine gift to every Kentuckian, I mean oratory. The only public speaking we are taught in that section of this wonderful country, is the recitation of the Apostles' Creed, the Lord's Prayer and the Ten Commandments and these we say until we really and truly believe that there is comprised in this belief and in these laws, pretty nearly all that make life one of love and charity and justice.

In distinction to this lack of being able to express ourselves with ease and dignity, I have listened with ever growing admiration and delight to your Kentucky youths of tender years who already have the congressional ritual down very pat—every one present I am sure will bear witness—even the high guest at this dinner, that the following sounds very much like a congressional report of proceedings as printed in our daily papers, but which is carefully pruned before its appearance in the Congressional Record. The speaker was little Jimmie Wallace, who was evidently wrought up over some happening, for as I passed along, these words floated from his lips, "Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Fords Ferry is a damned liar."

In expressing my thanks and voicing my delight at being with
